Summary of Inspection Findings

Food handling practices were good. Deliveries are checked in and placed in appropriate storage. Stock control was good. All chilled storage was operating at safe temperatures. There was good separation of raw and cooked foods. All food handlers were wearing clean protective clothing.

The establishment was generally clean and in good repair. All necessary facilities had been provided. Consideration needs to be given to additional fixed cooking equipment rather than using portable gas units.

A documented food safety management system was in place. Routine daily food safety checks, including temperature monitoring, were being carried out. Record keeping was good. Food handlers had all received appropriate training in food hygiene.
